Program

60 mins    Red flags for the non-personal injury lawyer

In this interactive Q&A-style recording, Anna Morgan guides practitioners through the key warning signs that a seemingly straightforward matter may in fact involve personal injury issues requiring specialised input. This session focuses on helping you recognise potential risks early, ask the right questions and confidently direct clients toward the appropriate support.

Drawing on real-world examples and the common challenges raised by general practitioners, Anna explains how to triage emerging problems—both proactively and preventatively—and how holistic issue-spotting can protect clients and ensure they receive accurate, timely advice. The recording offers practical insight into navigating unfamiliar aspects of the jurisdiction, understanding when to escalate or refer, and building confidence in identifying personal injury implications hidden within broader legal matters.

This session is ideal for any practitioner seeking to strengthen their diagnostic skills and provide well-rounded, informed guidance without needing to be a personal injury specialist.
